EASTERN DATES TO JULY 13.

EASTERN STATES.

Bloody Riots in New York

NEW YORK July 12 —About half past 2 o'clock the Orangemen formed on Twenty ninth street, below Eighth Avenue At the same time the 22d regiment under Col Porter, marched past and formed in line on Eighth Avenue, where they loaded with ball and cartridge The 6th regiment took up position to the north of 22d regiment. The police were on the east side of the street and military on the west side Apparently the intention was to have the Orangemen march between the two files They presented a small appearance, numbering about two hundred They had two banners—one stars and stripes and the other bearing the picture of William of Orange on horseback and a small one with inscription "American Freemen fall in" Police on the other side of the street made a rush on the mob, and it was feared a general row would take place, but was quieted, and at 3 o clock the signal for starting was given The procession started and was twice attacked by the rioters who were quickly put to flight by the police A large number of rioters were clubbed and taken prisoners At Twenty sixth street the 9th regiment charged the mob with fixed bayonets Several persons were killed and wounded, and among them one women Col James Fisk was at the head of his regiment and had an ankle broken with a club early in the affray Capt Spencer, of the 9th was killed by his own men while firing into the rioters Lieut Page of the 9th advertising agent of the Grand Opera House was mortally wounded Between Twenty fifth and Twenty sixth streets the mob fired three shots at the procession The military returned the fire killing eight and wounding thirteen Two boys and a lady were shot Sixteen citizens and three soldiers were killed. Coming down the Avenue at the corner of Twenty third street the 84th regiment fired on the mob, killing and wounding twelve One policeman was shot dead

LATER —Fight on Twenty fourth street and Eighth avenue more severe than at first reported Over 150 of the mob were certainly killed and wounded Among the troops known to be killed besides those already reported are Capt Barth and two privates and a sergeant of the Ninth Five regiments are near Cooper Institute Three hundred armed Hibernians took possession of Twenty ninth street, immediately opposite the police, who stood quietly waiting for orders When orders came the street was cleared in two minutes time one detachment marched quickly down Twenty ninth street toward Seventh avenue, while two others, one up and one down Eighth avenue, and the Hibernians disappeared No shots were fired The postoffice is now guarded by the 69th Regiment, which, although Irish, stand in readiness to put down the Hibernians

10 P M —About 40 persons were killed during the riot to day Total number wounded unknown, but 15 are known to be mortally wounded At 18th precinct there were 16 dead bodies which this evening were removed to the Morgue, at 29th precinct there were four dead bodies at the Morgue there are at present 40 bodies The Orange procession was broken up in 4th avenue opposite Cooper Institute Orangemen put their badges and regalia in their pockets and mingling with the crowd they quietly dispersed Police took charge of the Orange banners

LATER —Midnight —The city is quiet Large bodies of police are patrolling the city Troops are in their armories ready to march at a moment's notice An Orangeman's house was stoned to night, but the mob fled before the police and 14th regiment All regiments turned out with full numbers Each had 1 100 men in line The Hibernians swear they will have vengeance General Varian was indignant at the action of the 84th regiment in firing without orders He ordered it to the rear and brought up half of the 9th to take its place

NEW YORK July 12 —The Tribune of to morrow will have the following When the Orange men were opposite 24th street the column halted for a moment and immediately after halting a shot was fired from the upper story of a building at the northeast corner Simultaneously shots were fired at the 6th regiment from the rear of 15th on the same side of the street The 84th regiment received the first shot and in the confusion of the moment many of the men aimed at windows as if expecting orders to fire In an instant one gun was discharged, and then followed an irregular volley along the line of the 6th 9th and 84th regiments, a few men loading and firing the second time So sudden was the occurrence that the officers were taken by surprise, but as soon as possible, they rushed among them to stop the firing

The merchants at the Produce Exchange this afternoon adopted a resolution condemnatory of the Mayor and Superintendent of Police

NEW YORK, July 12—The following is said to be in circulation for signatures, in view of recent and probable future events

The immediate organization of a society to be known as The Protestant League of America, with Headquarters at New York City, with the officers of the society throughout the United States is recommended For this purpose, and properly to consider the immediate event that gives rise to this suggestion, let public meetings be called at once in this city and elsewhere

Claims of Roman Catholics are incompatible with Civilization and Religious Liberty

KINGSTON, JAMAICA, July 12 —The Porto Rico and Jamaica cable which was recently recovered has been lost again The steamer Suffolk has abandoned the attempt made to again secure the broken line The Haytien coast cable to Jamaica will be laid at once The Government has paid the amount agreed upon

Postoffice Matters

One year ago the number of postoffices was 28 492 There is no hazard now in putting the figures at 30 000

Every postmaster in the country has already been instructed to keep an account of the business of his office during the next six months, and on the first day of next January report the same to the appointment office so that each postmaster s salary may be readjusted upon a proper basis according to the law approved July 1 1864 providing for the payment of postmasters by a fixed salary in stead of commission as formerly

Four hundred new money order offices will be added by the first day of August the whole number will then be 2 500

The "free delivery system is in successful operation in fifty two cities with great advantages to the respective communities.

Silverton now has a mail from Salem twice a week

Work on the Christian College at Monmouth is progressing rapidly A fine building is being erected

The Benton Democrat says that Col Hogg proposes to commence a railroad to Yaquina Bay soon, if the people of Benton county will give him proper encouragement That is we suppose, if they will give him the money to build it

A little son of J H Upton s at Salem climbed into a wagon at that place on Wednesday, when the horses suddenly started and threw him between the standard and the wheel The horses ran two hundred yards with the little fellow in this position, his head striking the spokes as the wheel went round Finally he was thrown out, terribly bruised about the face and head, but no bones were broken

A man named John Ullery in Benton county on Saturday last committed suicide by putting poison in a glass of beer and drinking it He did the act in the presence of his wife After drinking he told her that his time was short, and called his children to him and bid them good bye and in a few minutes expired A week or two ago he purchased a new suit of clothes took them home and forbid anyone touching them, as he intended to be buried in them

PERSONAL NOTES

Mr and Mrs the Crown Prince of Germany (the latter nee Princess Royal of England) are visiting England this summer Some one suggest that they re coming to reconnoitre the battle field of Dorking, which is only twenty miles from Windsor.

William Young, the Mormon cadet at West Point, told an interviewing reporter the other day, that he has sixteen brothers and twenty two sisters Thus one of the great questions of the times, is settled—thirty nine children in Brigham's family

Gen Grant has a wraith who plays fantastic tricks upon the watering-place communities just now At Newport, the other day, the Presidential double rode through the streets in great style personating the General and receiving bows and courtesies from his friends who were deceived by the resemblance He is said to be a merchant of New York

The New York Evening Mail of the 29th inst., says that Whitelaw Reid of the Tribune, Mr Hurlbert of the World, Mr Raymond, Jr, of the Times, and Mr A U C Hazard of the Independent, propose going with a Northern Pacific Railroad excursion to Oregon and Puget Sound Ex Gov Bross of the Chicago Tribune, will accompany them

Dr. H D Newcomb, of Louisville, Ky who was lately divorced from an insane wife by special act of the Legislature, has just married the young lady on whose account he sought his freedom She is the daughter of a wealthy banker of the same city, and about fifty years younger than he is. No minister in Kentucky would perform the service, and a minister was imported from Canada for the purpose

CURRENT NOTES.

The Southern Pacific Railroad is pushing toward Arizona A twenty mile section from Gilroy to a point beyond Hollister, has been completed within a few days and trains will soon be run as far as the latter town

A letter writer in Kansas says that State has actually been gainer by the absence of trees, since far less labor is required to raise trees for all uses than to hew farms, towns and cities out of dense forests This is a new original method of stating an advantage.

A report comes via Paris that the Suez Canal is filling up with sand There need be no fear however, but that the engineering skill which sufficed to complete this great work will be able to encounter successfully the minor difficulties which arise from time to time

A proposition before the Nebraska Legislature, to confer the right of suffrage upon women, contains the provision that the women may vote upon its adoption This will allow the long mooted question of whether the mass of the sex really want the suffrage to be settled

The opening of the public libraries in Cincinnati on Sundays has not been attended with the results anticipated Comparatively few persons visit the libraries, but whether because of the superior attractions of other resorts or the inability of the populace to appreciate intellectual enjoyments, we are not informed

P Lorillard & Co, the great New York tobacconists, pay the largest tax of any single firm in the country Their payments for the direct special tax on chewing and smoking tobacco and snuff were $1 480,092 during 1870, and $186,963 for the single month of May 1871 exclusive of manufacturers' tax, dealers' tax, income tax and several others

Since the ratification of the treaty of Washington the State Department has been engaged in preparing the lists of the Alabama claims to be presented to the Board of Arbitrators They figure up a total of 234 vessels destroyed by the rebel cruisers, involving the sum of $12 150 884 the estimated value of the property at the time it was destroyed

POLITICAL NOTES

It is reported that General Frank P Blair advises the Democrats to take the new departure What becomes of his nullification policy as he applied it to the constitutional amendment in 1868? There is evidently convincing logic in majorities

The California Democracy are roundly scored by a portion of the Eastern Democratic press for the platform they adopted The Journal of Commerce rates them for their slavish subservience to what it calls the ruffianly element in California society meaning the allusion to the Chinese on which subject Eastern and Southern Democrats are far from agreeing with their Pacific brethren The platform on the whole is pronounced "the most flagrant instance on record of double meaning and insincerity"

Pendleton is censured thus by the St Paul Pioneer a prominent Democratic paper What is known as the financial plank of the platform of the Ohio Democracy is an absolute Pendletonism that contributed more to the defeat of the party at the Presidential election than any other one cause or perhaps all of the causes and that is to day as distasteful to a majority of the Democratic party itself as the high tariff or centralizing legislation of radicalism The proposition was submitted fairly in 1868 and was squarely beaten It was characterized by our enemies as repudiation, and many a good Democrat, who had for a lifetime marched in the ranks of his party, fearful that it was so meant, either went directly over to the other side or withheld his active support from the ticket Now again the crotchet is brought forward to please a spoiled favorite of the Ohio Democracy and again do we fear that the lesson of its folly will be learned only at the expense of defeat

A St Louis woman who according to the Republican, "was suffering from a diseased leg" swallowed some liniment which the doctor gave her, and now suffers from a diseased body

In Wyoming the bridegroom does the hunting and takes the kissing at weddings while the bride whispers, "lean on me, dearest"

EASTERN STATES

Results of the Riot.

NEW YORK July 13 —The most deliberate estimate gives the number of rioters killed during the day in the vicinity of one hundred Over one hundred and fifty were severely wounded and are in the hospitals where those only helplessly wounded were received Those slightly wounded are slipping away and hiding, lest it should become known they had taken a part in the riot Some approximate idea of the number wounded may be had Three hundred is not too high an estimate Of course many were killed and wounded who were merely spectators and innocent of the disturbance

In the narrow open space between the morgue on 26th street and East river, and at midnight just inside the lower Bellevue hospital gate, at 26th street, there were twenty seven coffins side by side, each containing a victim of the riot The morgue is purposely kept dark, because even at that late hour there was a large crowd outside the hospital walls eagerly demanding admission to search for missing friends or relatives No one was admitted Early this morning the lower gate of Bellevue on 25th street, will be opened to permit the public to view the corpses

After the riot on Twenty-eighth street and the dismissal of the procession quiet reigned and the Superintendent said it was all over for the present, yet it was not deemed prudent to dispense with a single safeguard, and not a man was relieved from duty The police all behaved nobly throughout the day Superintendent Kelso earned the thanks of all citizens by his eager, faithful and intelligent discharge of duty Ever alert and clear headed, going himself to the front to fight in Prince street, he fully redeemed himself long before the terrible day was done and no chief was ever more ably and zealously served.

Gov. Hoffman yesterday made the following statement to a reporter I became thoroughly satisfied that it was necessary not only for the present but for the future, that whatever lawless element was in the City of New York should be made to understand at once and fully that there was force enough in the city, military and civil, to assert the power and authority of the law, preserve peace and order and protect the lives and property of the people I determined therefore to issue a proclamation that processions and assemblages for any lawful purpose would be permitted and would be protected to the full extent of the law, as far as civil and military power at my command would be sufficient This is not a question of to day's procession, but a question which applies to all future gatherings Men who choose to assemble for any purpose, religious or political, who threaten no interference with the rights of persons or property of others have the right to do so, and must not be interfered with. Under all circumstances and at all hazards they they must and shall be protected by civil and military authorities in the assertion and maintenance of their principles

A majority of the 69th Regiment (Hibernian) were locked up in their armory all day Small detachments then went out behaved very badly and affiliated with the rioters As soon as this was known the doors of the armory were locked and barred

The Orangemen were so completely protected that not a man of them was injured

Two company's of the 69th were sent last night to guard the Postoffice, Custom house and Sub Treasury The usual guard was doubled during the day

Bankers and brokers were supplied by telegraph wires running to Wall street with the earliest news, At 12 o clock most of the brokers commenced deposit of boxes containing securities in the Stock Exchange bank vault All business on the street was suspended At the close there were scarcely brokers enough in Board to establish quotations A movement for securing valuables was made immediately after the reception of the report that the mob was moving down town on police headquarters

A Fool and her Money

A WICKED CONFIDENCE OPERATION—A TRAVELER SWINDLED OUT OF $700—SUCH A GOOD, AFFECTIONATE MAN

A Syracuse paper of Thursday says An old gentleman and his wife and married daughter, and infant granddaughter, were traveling on cars that reached Syracuse about midnight last night bound for Oregon A gentlemanly appearing fellow was on the same train, and made himself very agreeable and attentive to the young married woman with the infant in her arms In fact his polite attentions gained the confidence of the whole family Nearly all their available means amounting to $700, were in the possession of the young married woman, and by some process unknown, the swindler succeeded in persuading her to give him the $700 taking as security a check for $2 500, which he of course represented to be good, but could not get cashed in time to use the money

Soon after she had handed him the money and received the check the fellow suddenly disappeared and the young lady began to be a little uneasy, and as the conductor was passing through the train when near the tunnel east of the city, she stopped the conductor and inquired his opinion about the check He pronounced it worthless and an attempt was made to find the swindler but without success He had probably jumped off the train as it was entering the city and escaped The distressed family left the train, and remained here over night in hopes to find some trace of the swindler, but we suspect their case is a hopeless one

The unfortunates are Germans, and have heretofore resided in Jefferson county The husband of the daughter is at Salem Oregon, where these were going and for which purpose the man had sold his farm

They have tickets to San Francisco but have only about ten dollars left. It is a case that calls for substantial sympathy At the depot last night a warm hearted poor German handed them three dollars May many follow his example in amounts according to their ability

A disconsolate Oshkosher who commenced proceedings against a young lady for breach of promise has been finally induced to compromise for $5

The Democracy in a Nutshell

Senator Sherman made a speech at the meeting at Columbus in ratification of the Ohio Republican nominations, in which, after referring to the formal approval of the great distinguishing measures of the Republican party by the recent convention of Democratic politicians he made the following succinct review of the factious and self-contradicting attitude of the Democratic party

There would be greater cause for rejoicings if we did not see so many reasons for regarding this new departure as a Trojan horse, a new device of the enemy to steal into our camp and destroy our case After giving his reasons at length for believing the new departure to be a device and discussing the Democratic platform Senator Sherman said they appear eager to depart in every direction but go nowhere they tell us that they hold good to the old Democratic doctrine of annexation of territory [illegible] opposed to the acquiring of San Domingo [illegible] extend to be for hard money [illegible] an unlimited amount of greenbacks [illegible] they pretend respect for the laws and the courts and they propose to disregard [illegible] solemn pledge of our loan laws but [illegible] of the Supreme Court [illegible] the public creditors they [illegible] opposition to the National Banking system and propose nothing to take its place In their wild and blind opposition [illegible] destroy the best system of currency [illegible] ever had merely because it was [illegible] by the Republican party [illegible] commercial nations of the world [illegible] and following our example [illegible] Chase now one of their [illegible] and supported it [illegible] dollar as the holder of a National [illegible] yet they would derange [illegible] the country by uprooting [illegible] be cause there is supposed [illegible] party cry against banks The talk [illegible] revenue tariff and wise tax law [illegible] of their party in C[illegible] either but oppose [illegible] by us When we repeal [illegible] taxes they vote against it [illegible] new guards against frauds [illegible] them They talk about [illegible] vote for every extra[illegible] They would load us down [illegible] in the war They seize [illegible] first one thing and then [illegible] as the greenbacks in New [illegible] ment in Pennsylvania [illegible] it is a new departure [illegible] perpetual war against [illegible] and death to the negro, with [illegible] anism in Kentucky [illegible] of '98 slightly revised with [illegible] his powerful party following [illegible] war and disunion

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 14, 1871.

The New York Riots.

The topic of the hour is the causeless and criminal riot in New York. Of late years the country has had repeated proofs of the presence of turbulent and brutal elements of population in that city, which are at once a menace to its peace and a reproach to its civilization. The events of Wednesday recall the riots of 1863, in which the same classes of people had the leading part. Then, the passions of the country were at a white heat, and the New York riots were looked upon as a part of the civil war. There was a sort of excuse for them in the passions of men,—though no palliation. But the riots of Wednesday last can have no semblance of excuse. They proceeded from a spirit at once intolerant, malignant, revengeful, devilish. The authors of the riots proceeded to their work with fiendish premeditation. Relying on the strength of numbers and believing that they had the city under their heels, they deliberately and insolently resolved that a certain society which they disliked should not parade in peaceful procession. Hence they gave notice that they would murder or disperse its members if they should appear on the streets. The vicious, brutal, intolerant [illegible] who did this believed that the authorities would not dare to interfere against them. They had been pampered so long by the scurvy politicians in authority in the city that they supposed they could perpetrate this outrage with impunity. Nor were they far wrong in their belief. Mayor Hall and the other city officials gave way to them. They recognized the seditious, turbulent mob as their masters, and with a pusillanimity that has no parallel prohibited the parade. The country at once began to ring with exclamations of indignation. An outrage of so gross a character was well calculated to create a profound sensation in every quarter of the Union. The Governor of the State perceived that it would not do; hence he revoked the order prohibiting the parade, and announced that all persons who desired to walk in peaceful procession should be protected to the utmost extent of the law. Preparations were made to meet the danger; the military was placed under arms, and all possible precautions taken to preserve the peace. But in spite of all this, when the parade began the rioters attacked the procession. Soon the fight grew flagrant, the police and soldiers, as well as the Orangemen, were attacked, and the troops began firing upon the mob. The result was that the riot was suppressed,—about one hundred persons having been killed and three or four hundred wounded. Pity it is that the dead rioters were not numbered by thousands, instead of by hundreds. It is evident that the mob supposed themselves to be complete masters of New York. They comprise a class who have so long been courted and petted by the ruling politicians of the city and State, that they thought themselves at liberty to resort to any lawlessness. By these politicians they have been encouraged in abridging the rights of citizens by fraudulent voting, and in divers other ways instructed in the school of wrong. They evidently supposed that on account of their voting strength and the peculiar relations between themselves and the ring in official power the law would not be enforced against them. They could ride over other people with impunity and riot at their own free will. As regards the city authorities, they were right in these suppositions. The mayor shamefully struck his colors to the mob, virtually conceded that they were the ruling power in the city, and in substance announced the doctrine that other people would live there only by their sufferance. By prohibiting the Orange parade he told the rioters that the city was theirs, and that no organization could assemble within it or march in procession through its streets without their permission. This infamous concession was the real cause of the riot. To palter with a riotous class is to make an outbreak certain. The authorities of New Jersey met the exigency promptly and in a proper spirit. The Governor of that State issued his proclamation two days in advance, and asserted that all classes would be alike protected. There was no outbreak in New Jersey. The Governor of New York reluctant to take measures against his friends, acted more tardily. But at last he was driven, it seems by an irresistible public opinion, to take action. It was too late, however to avert bloodshed.

By these events the broad question is presented for solution, whether there is to be equality of rights in this country; whether all law-abiding people are to have equal protection of the laws, or whether any one class is to monopolize all rights and privileges. With the Orangemen we have little sympathy and regard their organization in this country as quite absurd; but probably it is no more absurd than many others. The question involved is a general principle. If Chinese in this country wish to assemble peaceably for a parade they shall be permitted to do it. The American people despise tyranny and intolerance. And they are determined that all classes, conditions, sects and organizations, so long as they obey the laws, shall be treated alike and have equal privileges.

Another consideration presents itself. We all know what political party attaches to itself these dangerous elements in the city of New York. And we know that it is these turbulent elements that make its power there irresistible. It is through them that this party hopes to possess itself of the General Government and rule the country. The idea that such a thing may be possible is not an encouraging one.

The Herald devotes much of its space to predictions about the happy days coming when its party shall return to power and govern the country. Let us rub off this fine coloring and show the picture in its true light by pointing at the results of Democratic government in the city of New York. Read the dispatches of to-day and see it there in all its glory.

At the solicitation of many citizens of this place Hon. John A. Bingham, of Ohio, has consented to deliver a speech here on next Tuesday evening. He is an orator of great power and should have a large audience. He will speak at the Court House. Mr. Bingham with some friends will go to the Dalles on Saturday.

The "new departure" has split the Democracy of Iowa wide open. In the regular Convention which was held a few weeks ago a vigorous fight was made against it, but the "departers" carried the day. But now the dissatisfied wing of the party come to the front and issue a call for another State Convention on the 13th August.

A Difference of Opinion.

We were sorry to see in a city contemporary yesterday an article which to ninety-nine readers in a hundred will read like an elaborate apology for the rioters in New York. The article closes with this statement: "We say that, in behalf of the peace and good order of that city, Mayor Hall acted right in prohibiting the Orange demonstration, and the best sentiment of the Nation will approve that which he has done to prevent disorder and perhaps bloodshed." We think very differently of this affair, and are satisfied that the best sentiment of the Nation is with us in our belief. Gov. Hoffman's action, though tardy, will be approved by the best sentiment of the Nation. It will be regarded as the one great redeeming act of his official career. It was time to decide whether anybody but one class had any rights in New York, and if the decision cost bloodshed it was the fault of those who pushed it to that issue.

We are of opinion that when Mr. Slater comes before his party next year asking for a re-nomination for Congress, he will be informed by the "sturdy Democracy" of Oregon that as he is one of the "departed" he had better be buried and not absurdly persist in trying to stay above ground.

Both of our daily contemporaries speak favorably of the Holly system of water supply. It is to be hoped that the system will receive the fullest possible investigation. The drift of opinion in the city appears to be decidedly in favor of its adoption here.

Oregon wool is quoted in the San Francisco market at 37½@40c, for fair to choice clear; while the same grades of California are quoted at 30@35c. A decided difference in favor of the Oregon product.

Retirement of the German Minister.

A few days ago Baron Gerolt, the German Minister at Washington, called the White House and took formal leave of President Grant, preparatory to going to Europe. He made the following remarks on the occasion:

MR. PRESIDENT: After a residence of more than a quarter of a century in your great country as representative of my august Sovereign, and of so many mutual interests which have been developed during that time between the United States and Prussia, in union with the other States of Germany, it is a great satisfaction to me to leave the mission entrusted to me with the conviction that the friendly relations between the Governments and the people of the two nations have become more intimate and durable, to the benefit of the national prosperity as well as to the cause of true liberty and civilization in both countries.

Mr. President, in taking leave of your Excellency I beg to tender my most respectful thanks for the many proofs of kindness and good will I have received from yourself and from all the executive governments of the United States in the performance of my official duties during my residence in Washington, and to express my sincerest wishes for your welfare and for the happiness of the people and my friends in this country, where I have passed the best part of my life.

To which the President replied as follows:

BARON: I need not assure you that your relinquishment of your position as the diplomatic representative of your sovereign here will occasion general regret, in which I cordially share. You have been so long accredited to this Government that you have had unusual opportunities of forming acquaintances, not only with our public men, but with others of my countrymen. Many of them have become your personal friends. They will lament that your proposed departure may deprive them of future intercourse with you. Your experience in affairs elsewhere, as well as here, has undoubtedly rendered your suggestions sometimes, especially upon critical occasions, in a high degree useful. I will add that, notwithstanding your absence, your zealous and successful endeavors to strengthen the friendly relations between our respective countries are not likely to be thwarted or counteracted. It shall be my endeavor to do everything which may be in my power toward consolidating them. My best wishes attend you.

THE CALIFORNIA REPUBLICAN TICKET.—The ticket nominated by the Republicans is well received throughout the State, and the party papers express a confident anticipation of its election. The nomination of Booth is very popular. His high character and fitness are admitted on all sides, and the most unscrupulous of the Democratic organs are unable to find a point in which he can be assailed. The German and Spanish-Americans have endorsed him heartily in their respective journals, and his few brief speeches have made an excellent impression with all classes. The Republicans begin the campaign with entire harmony and far more enthusiasm and confidence than are exhibited by the Democracy, a large portion of whom accepted the nomination of Haight under protest and support it reluctantly, while some declare that they will not support it at all. The party has no positive issue in the campaign distinct from the Republicans, except opposition to the national administration. If the Republicans, now, will everywhere make good local and legislative nominations, leaving municipal nominations in San Francisco to the independent action of good citizens of both parties, they may count with some reason upon regaining the State. But bad local tickets will have a demoralizing effect. Without them, the contest will be a close one; with them, the defeat of the Republican State ticket will be nearly certain. Let the local conventions, therefore, be cautious and wise.—S. F. Bulletin.

Mr. Pendleton does not seem to have gained popularity since 1868. The adoption of his theory about paying the national debt in greenbacks is severely criticised by the Democratic papers in all parts of the country. The St. Paul Pioneer, the leading Democratic paper in Minnesota, says:

What is known as the financial plank of the platform of the Ohio Democracy is an obsolete Pendletonism that contributed more to the defeat of the party at the last Presidential election than any other one cause, or perhaps all of the causes, and that is to-day as distasteful to a majority of the Democratic party itself as the high tariff or centralizing legislation of radicalism. The proposition was submitted fairly in 1868 and was squarely beaten. It was characterized by our enemies as repudiation, and many a good Democrat, who had for a lifetime marched in the ranks of his party, fearful that it was so meant, either went directly over to the other side or withheld his active support from the ticket. Now again the crotchet is brought forward to please a spoiled favorite of the Ohio Democracy, and again do we fear that the lesson of its folly will be learned only at the expense of defeat.

How little is really known in this country in respect to agricultural economy is illustrated in the statistics concerning fences. It is said that the improved lands in South Carolina are worth $20,000,000, while the fences that inclose them have actually cost $16,000,000. The fences in New York have cost $144,000,000; those of Ohio, $115,000,000, and according to an estimate made by Nicholas Biddle thirty years ago, the fences of Pennsylvania had then cost $1,000,000,000. The fences of the whole Union are estimated at $1,300,000,000. The time may come—in the next century, it is suggested—when outside of towns and cities a fence will almost be a curiosity. Hedges will take their place, and thereby accomplish an immense saving of money, while lending a rare and exquisite beauty to the rural landscape, which it can never have under the present system.

Which would a young lady rather be—a Dryad or a Naiad? A Dryad, for then she would be a wood nymph.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Latest from the Riots—Carnage More Fearful than First Reported.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The carnage yesterday was more fearful than is yet reported. There are hundreds of wounded of whom the police will never be able to get any account. There are 100 scouts out this morning who report every half hour at the nearest station house. Everything goes to show that the laborers are at work and that no trouble need be apprehended to day.

The 7th regiment left police headquarters at 8 A. M. Only 100 police are on duty before the building.

Gen. Shaler and staff are still at their posts, where they will remain till noon. Everything points to a complete restoration of order.

The Riot Renewed.

1:50 P. M.—Rumors had just reached police headquarters of fighting now going on at the Boulevards. Troops have been sent to the scene of disturbance.

Dispatch from Hartford.

HARTFORD, July 13.—In the Senate to-day a bill repealing usury laws passed by nearly a unanimous vote.

In the House, a bill consolidating the New York and New Haven and Hartford and New Haven Railroads was passed—129 to 85.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Mrs. Stanton and Miss Anthony paid a visit of sympathy and condolence to Mrs. Fair in the county jail to-day and remained over half an hour. The female convicts in for larceny and other lower grades of crime were not honored by a visit.

Judge Sheldon S. Wright telegraphs from Santa Barbara that he had his leg broken on the steamer Pacific by freight falling against it. He will necessarily be confined to his room a long time.

During the excitement on Montgomery street last night, an American who made some remark about the riots in New York, had his jaw broken by a blow from an Irishman.

J. R. Hughes, who was cut on the head with a jack-knife by James McLaughlin, a Barbary-coaster, July 3d, died in the hospital this evening.

Fisk's Opera Bouffe Troupe opened at Maguire's to-night with "Barba Bleu" to a magnificent house. The Metropolitan is also crowded; "Help" proving a second "Arrah-na-Pogue."

It is said that E. S. Bamberger, or Bamborg, alias "General Average," who was arrested on board a vessel bound for Mazatlan to-day, for forging a check for $126, and jumped overboard and attempted to drown himself, was formerly Private Secretary of Jeff. Davis and served in the rebel army. He is poor and sickly at best.

GILROY, July 13.—Work was commenced to-day on the branch railroad from this place to Watsonville.

YOSEMITE, July 13.—The rush of tourists to Yosemite has slacked. The present is a good time to come as there is now sufficient accommodations in all the hotels for visitors. The scenery, with the exception of the waterfall, is seen to more advantage now than at any other time of the year.

The Memphis Avalanche gives the following account of the way Memphis jurymen kill time: "Every day a number of men—jurymen—can be seen busily engaged in playing that game which Ah Sin did not understand in one of the rooms of the Second Circuit Court. It is very thrilling to watch the buckets of perspiration flow from the marble brows of the players when the wrong man puts down the right bower."

A humane genius in Detroit has invented a door bell with a six chamber revolver attachment, though its use is not very clearly defined, unless it be for the benefit of small boys and the coroner.

AMUSEMENTS.

Circus —M'lle Jeal & Co' circus played last evening to a full house—the second of their season in this city The performances are quite clever, indeed, in general, and those of the Jeal sisters are particularly pleasing This company has one merit which does not belong to most circuses—they go right along with whatever they have on hand, and when one act is closed they have another ready Consequently the audience never tires Mr Ryland, the veteran circus manager is in charge, and Dave Long, the well known jester does the principal clowning. The equestrian and gymnastic performances of the young ladies are really very creditable and worth seeing Master Willie, a Portland boy—a wee bit of a lad—is a favorite To-night, a change of programme is promised

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Business School.—We invite attention to an advertisement in this morning's paper, which sets forth the advantages of the "California Polytechnic," Oakland, California, as a place for the thorough business education of young men

The Lost Child Found —The distressing uncertainty as to the fate of Mr Ed Chambreau's little boy, who had been missing since last Friday, was brought to a close yesterday afternoon by the finding of the body in the river near Hayden, Smith & Co's mill, at the foot of Madison street. One of the men employed at the mill, going out upon the boom, found it floating but a little way out from shore, where it had probably just risen from the bottom The supposition is now that the little fellow while playing about the lower story of the mill fell through the floor, unseen by any of his play fellows. The body was taken to the residence of the afflicted parents and the funeral will take place from their house this morning The friends of the bereaved family are invited to attend.

Laborers in Demand —The Northern Pacific Railroad contractor advertises for fifty laborers and teamsters. The O & C Railroad Co. wants a large number of laborers at the front , and now the Canal and Locks Co at the Oregon City Falls are calling for a hundred additional laborers These are chances enough for employment for all that want it. In a short time there will be a demand among the farmers for help

Personal —Miss Lizzie Ingles, a young actress of much promise, who for a long time was connected with the Bates dramatic company at Oro Fino Theater, started yesterday by the overland route for San Francisco We understand she is offered an engagement with the new company at the Metropolitan Theater in that city.

Presto —The wharf back of McLaren's mill came in sight yesterday, and the P T Co's wharf will probably be out of water by to-morrow The river bank proper, in front of East Portland, is also visible again above the receding flood

Accident —Mr M Sellor was badly hurt yesterday by falling while trundling a heavy case of goods on a store truck It is hoped, however, that his injuries will not prove to be of a lasting nature

Post Meeting —We are requested to state that Baker Post No I, G A R , will have a regular meeting for work to morrow evening, and that a full attendance is desired

Heavy Grading —A deep excavation has been commenced at the foot of G street East Portland working down the bank to the established street grade

Ward to be Sentenced —Thomas Ward, convicted of murder in the second degree will be sentenced by Judge Upton to-day

Increasing —Travel by the O & C Railroad has greatly increased of late.

Try the ' Excelsior Virginia Long Cut Cavendish Smoking Tobacco " Stone, next door to the Postoffice, has it jo29dim

Just Arrived —D L Stone has just received a large supply of Gold and Silver Watches of all the best patterns made Also, Gold and Silver Chains for Ladies and Gents and elegant Opera Chains

Also, a large assortment of the finest Jewelry and Precious Stones Gold Headed Canes a large lot of Spectacles, Plate and Silver Ware and all kinds of Clocks. Mr Stone is satisfied with quick sales and small profits.

As a remedy for Bronchial Affections and Chronic diseases of the Lungs nothing ever before discovered equals Dr Pierce's Alt Ext or Golden Medical Discovery It is also a great blood purifier and restorative tonic and cures Pimples Blotches and Eruptions on the face, making the complexion clear and fair Sold by druggists

A Neglected Cough, Cold or Sore Throat, which might be checked by a simple remedy like "Brown's Bronchial Troches," if allowed to progress may terminate seriously For Bronchitis, Asthma Catarrh and Consumptive Coughs, The Troches are used to advantage giving oftentimes immediate relief Singers and public speakers will find them also excellent to clear the voice and render articulation wonderfully easy

The Famine in Persia

The horrors of the Persian famine increase A correspondent writing to a Turkish journal from Tabreez under date of April 30th, says "The details which reach us here of the destruction and the misery which the drought of last year has caused in the central and Southern provinces of Persia are fearfully heartrending That the people are dying of hunger, even in the streets of the capital, is a minor phase of this terrible calamity In Khorassan, parents are selling their children as slaves to the Turcomans in order to keep them alive, and in Ispahan, it is said, men have been seized in the act of digging up the corpses to serve as food for their starving families In Shiraz Kerman and Yezd the wretched sufferers endeavor to support life on the grass and roots which they may find in the neighborhood, and as might be expected pestilence follows hard on the footsteps of famine between them half of the kingdom of Persia is becoming rapidly depopulated '

A later account of the famine is given in the Times of India, of May 12th, which says The famine of Persia is severe beyond comprehension Rain was for long time hopefully expected but it came in very measured quantity, and too late to turn away the foe that was already at the door Thousands are said to have died by the wayside of sheer starvation or of starvation coupled with the disease it invariably brings in its train Most of the dead lie unburied—a fact which may be regarded as the sure precursor of pestilence At first, when self preservation by any means whatever became a question to be decided yea or nay the former alternative prevailed with the Mussulmans, and more than one human being is said to have been killed and eaten by them It is stated that the sights to be seen, and not to be avoided in the neighborhood of Shiraz, are such that Europeans will not leave their own houses Also between Shiraz and Bushire thousands of dead bodies lie unburied Amid all these tales of privation and death, how is it that we hear nothing of measures of relief, except now and again by the acknowledgment of a donation of a few rupees in Bombay? What is that Sovereign of Persia doing?

And through millions of orifices oozes the transparent fluid which nature does not need for vital purposes This is a wise provision of Providence but excessive perspiration is nevertheless extremely weakening During the heats of summer all hard working men perspire to an extent that is more or less debilitating They of all classes of the community require a wholesome invigorant at this season Let them not seek it in the liquors of the bar-room; they will not find it there A medicated stimulant pure and undefiled is what they need and among this class of remedies Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands alone No valid plea can be urged against its use even by the genius of Temperance itself, for even the Maine law permits the sale of diffusive stimuli for medicinal purposes As a general renovating preparation the Bitters has no equal anywhere But this is only one of the merits of this famous invigorator Its regulating properties give it an immense superiority over all the tonics of the Pharmacopœia In cases of chronic constipation it is the most useful and certain of all aperients It creates no violent commotion in the discharging organs but gently relieving them of their obstructions leaves them in a healthy, vigorous condition It seems unnecessary to state in view of the mass of testimony as to its effects in dyspepsia, that it is a permanent cure for that terrible but too general complaint

The numerous Bitters under various names which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be avoided for their own sakes by the sick and the public at large Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only and never sold in bulk.

Boots, Shoes and Free Trade

[From the Chicago Evening Mail.]

We should like to know if misrepresentation and falsehood are necessary to sustain the doctrine of free trade? If they are the sooner the people find it out the better. A comparatively small number of manufacturers of boots and shoes in Massachusetts and New Hampshire lately issued a manifesto in the interest of free trade, based upon a palpable falsehood, and immediately all the advocates of that false doctrine seized upon the falsehood and pass it around as though it were going to acquire an element of truth by frequent repetition. The evening free trade organ of this city took it up and gave it the benefit of its endorsement last evening. It says:

Some four hundred firms engaged in boot and shoe manufacturing in Massachusetts announce themselves heartily sick of protection. The Government receives a revenue from all articles used in that branch of industry of only three and a half millions, while it imposes on the manufacturers a tax of eight millions.

Will anybody pretend that the editor who wrote that did not know that he was writing a falsehood? How is this eighteen millions of tax imposed upon the manufacturer made up? It is by adding 35 per cent to the price of all the leather used in the manufacture of boots and shoes in the New England States, where it is admitted that American manufacturers of leather can compete with and undersell the foreign manufacturer in any market in the world, an admission, by the way, that the price of American leather is not influenced by the tariff to the amount of one penny, any more than the price of wheat or corn is. That one item will do away with the larger share of the eighteen millions, while the balance is made up in the same way. For instance, the only imported leather used is about $8,000,000 worth of French calf skins. Well, admit that upon that the American consumer pays the 35 per cent. Who is better able to pay that small amount towards the national revenue than the rich people who wear French calf boots? There are very few worn by the laboring classes.

But the idea is, that "all things are fair in politics," so the advocates of free trade make the most reckless and false assertions without apparently, the least compunction. The entire argument for free trade is made up of the most extravagant assertions without the least regard to truth, and that, more than anything else, induces the belief that falsehood and deception are actually necessary to sustain the doctrine. When we see the first argument brought forward based upon a plain statement of truths and common sense, then we will consider the propriety of changing our faith. [illegible] manufacturers say we must have our work done just as cheaply as it is done in Europe—that it is better for our workingmen to receive twenty-[illegible] cents a day, and pay fifty cents for a [illegible] of coffee, and two dollars for a pound [illegible] because, perhaps, they can get a pair [illegible] calf boots a dollar cheaper than [illegible] now, or a French broadcloth coat, [illegible] dress for their wives a dollar or two [illegible]—then there is some use in arguing [illegible]. Just let us see how the case will [illegible] the common laborer now gets [illegible] day for three hundred working days [illegible]. That is $450, and he gets one [illegible] French calf boots at $12 for himself [illegible] year, and a silk dress for his wife [illegible] years for $30. Under free trade [illegible] cents a day for three hundred [illegible] $150, and saves, say $3 on his [illegible] and $10 on his wife's dress [illegible] a saving of $13, and a loss in wages [illegible]. That [illegible] about the way that free [illegible] up the workingman. There [illegible] goods and few common woolen goods such as working men buy, that would [illegible] under free trade than they are now [illegible] that the coarse products [illegible] farm would be cheaper, because hundreds of [illegible] laborers now employed [illegible] be driven to agricul[illegible] would not only increase [illegible] lessen the demand for such [illegible] we consider a fair statement [illegible] result of a return to free trade. Work[illegible] easily judge for themselves [illegible] be benefitted.

[illegible] red cent " has now passed out [illegible], and, except rarely, out of sight, like [illegible] bucket," its history is a mat[illegible] interest for preservation. The [illegible] proposed by Robert Morris, the [illegible] revolution, and was [illegible] two years after. It began [illegible] appearance from the mint in [illegible]. It bore the head of Washington on one side and thirteen links on the other [illegible] French revolution soon created a rage for French ideas in America, which put on the cent [illegible] the head of Washington, the head [illegible] goddess of Liberty—a French liberty with [illegible] thrust forward and flowing locks. The [illegible] on the reverse was replaced [illegible] olive wreath of peace. But the French liberty [illegible] short lived, and so was her portrait on our cent. The head or figure succeeding that—the staid, classic dame, with a [illegible] around her hair—came into fashion [illegible] forty years ago, and her finally [illegible] features have been but slightly altered [illegible] of time.

[illegible] says of the work on which [illegible] is now engaged, and which [illegible] appear in print: "It is under[illegible] the subject claims the special in[illegible] scholars, the basis of the poem [illegible] translation of the "Alcestis" of [illegible]. Mr Browning's comments, his [illegible] between the lines, are placed in the [illegible] of a girl who figures from the commencement of the piece, while the transcript [illegible] introduced towards the middle [illegible]. Hitherto Mr. Browning's great [illegible] have not been identified with classic modes of thought, and it would seem as [illegible] treatment of the choruses must present [illegible] difficulties to one whose lyric verse [illegible] appears to bear the trace of unfulfilled effort, but it remains to be seen to what point [illegible] achievement his great force of insight may be stirred by the inspiration of the present theme."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

PORTLAND, Thursday, July 13, 1871

Gold at New York, 112⅛.

Currency quotations at Portland, 89c buying, 90c selling.

Exchange—On San Francisco ⅓ per cent on New York, 1½ per cent.

Telegraphic transfers—On New York, 1½ per cent. premium.

Interest—Bank rates for short loans, 1 per cent.

The money market presents no new features since last week. It is confidently expected however, that an improvement in the supply of coin will take place within the coming month. The beginning of active work on the Oregon Central Railroad will materially assist in placing a more general supply of money in the hands of the laboring classes. The State will very soon begin to receive some money in return for the crops of 1871. The mines too, will before long add to our circulation. In regard to the prospects in this behalf, the Walla Walla Real Estate Record says: "During the past month [June] Mr A B Elmer, of this place, has assayed over $10,000 gold dust. Taking into consideration the earliness of the season, this is a good beginning. It was thought by many during the early part of spring that the yield of gold from the up country mines this year would be far below that of last, but present indications show to the contrary. It is true that no new mines of importance have been discovered this year in either Idaho or Montana but the great snow fall last winter has furnished an abundance of water all over the mining districts, which has enabled the miners to work over a large scope of country this season, with flattering results, which has heretofore laid idle, owing to the scarcity of that all important element in a mining district—water. Taking this into consideration then, the gold yield for the present season will be greater than for several years past."

The merchandise market continues rather active in nearly all lines. The season is pretty well advanced for agricultural goods, but the demand holds out rather strong and prices are well maintained. Cotton and woolen goods are still advancing. We shall present an entirely new price list next week. Business continues good in the dry goods line. Summer goods are almost entirely closed out, and we notice that some of importers are receiving already large supplies of goods for the fall trade. There is nothing new to notice in other mercantile lines.

Produce and Provisions—Flour has been marked down 50 cents per barrel all round. Middlings and shorts—feed descriptions—are quoted down about $5 ⅌ ton, each. Potatoes are up to $1 ⅌ bushel. Eggs are also materially advanced. Bacon of all descriptions is meeting with dull sale, quotations as last week.

Of a far higher class than any other proprietary medicine of the day stands

TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT

And for this reason: It is an exact counterpart of one of the most valuable natural medicines in the world. We refer to the great Seltzer Spring of Germany, to which thousands of the dyspeptic, the bilious, the rheumatic, and the victims of renal disease resort annually, and return to their homes convalescent or cured. The Aperient is one of the first, and by far the most successful of all the efforts made to reproduce in a portable form, the popular mineral waters of Europe. See that you purchase only the genuine article.
